

99.18

Sonoma West Times & News
May 5-11, 1999

A12 SONOMA WEST Times & News, May 5, 1999

EDITORIAL

Go to the Laguna

The celebration of our Laguna de Santa Rosa is more vital to our souls than we might realize.

Last Sunday's "Aware Of What We Share" Day brought a few hundred people together to bless and pay tribute to a natural realm where misery, vengeance and cruelty have no place.

The display of the Park Side student's Laguna explorations was about self-discovery as much as it was about ecology. The young leadership of the Americorps and the other student displays offered much-needed positive examples of young people growing in character and purpose.

Families, City employees, Foundation leaders and others worked together to restore the Laguna habitat, offering proof that not all of today's World is as crazed and pointless as we sometimes feel.

Go to the Laguna. Take your troubles and let them go as you become "aware of what we share."